

Post-doctoral position in Supply Chain Management

WE OFFER A FULL-TIME POSITION AT THE SOLVAY BRUSSELS SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND MANAGEMENT

Job description

The Solvay Brussels School of Economics and Management (ULB) has currently a post-doctoral position available in the area of supply chain management. The overall topic of the post-doctoral position is risk management in covid-times, linked to supply chain management and operations management. The PhD track enables a fast track PhD as there are limited teaching obligations in the first two-years (there is already full-time funding for the first two years) based on an FNRS funding. The PhD is guided by Professor Dr. Evelyne Vanpoucke. The successful applicant will join the SBS-EM, characterised by a remarkable track record in research excellence.

Doctoral program

Our school consists of a vibrant mix of people interested in economics and management. We actively strive to create and maintain an intellectually stimulating environment, advancing the scientific knowledge in the areas mentioned above, while at the same time contributing to the development of effective practices for companies, organizations and society. Our school is highly recognized, both nationally and internationally.

The post-doctoral position is financed by MIS FNRS funding (a scientific funding) for a period of 2 years. The research project will be about risk management in supply chains and will be guided by Professor Evelyne Vanpoucke. The post-doctoral position will also be involved in guiding a Ph.D. student on this topic.
