Course period

First and second terms

- › Work in an industrial environment with attention to safety, quality assurance, communication and reporting
- › Develop, plan, execute and manage engineering projects at the level of a starting professional
- › Think critically about and evaluate projects, systems and processes, particularly when based on incomplete, contradictory and/or redundant information
- › A creative, problem-solving, result-driven and evidence-based attitude, aiming at innovation and applicability in industry and society
- › A critical attitude towards one's own results and those of others
- › Consciousness of the ethical, social, environmental and economic context of his/her work and strives for sustainable solutions to engineering problems including safety and quality assurance aspects
- › The flexibility and adaptability to work in an international and/or intercultural context
- › An attitude of life-long learning as needed for the future development of his/her career

Teaching method and learning activities

Contribution to the teaching profile

This teaching unit contributes to the following competences:

- › Reformulate complex engineering problems in order to solve them (simplifying assumptions, reducing complexity)
- › Conceive, plan and execute a research project, based on an analysis of its objectives, existing knowledge and the relevant literature, with attention to innovation and valorization in industry and society
- › Correctly report on research or design results in the form of a technical report or in the form of a scientific paper
- › Present and defend results in a scientifically sound way, using contemporary communication tools, for a national as well as for an international professional or lay audience
- › Collaborate in a (multidisciplinary) team
