International/Openness

Each year our Faculty welcomes a large number of 1st and 2nd – cycle Erasmus students.

We organise information sessions about our exchange programmes at the beginning of the year.

Job opportunities

If you go on to do a Master in Psychology, you will be able to work in the following areas:

- › Psychologist in the health sector : psychotherapy, psychological consultations (in a company or a private practice), rehabilitation, neuropsychology...
- › Psychologist in the nursery and learning sector.
- › Psychologist in the professional sector : staff management, preventive psycho-social counselling, training, integration and careers guidance, advertising...
- › Psychologist in the socio-cultural sector and within an organisation, especially group dynamics, social integration, institutional analysis.
- › Adult training and trainer training.

With this bachelor's degree you can go on to do a Master in Education and will be able to work in the following areas:

Programme objectives

Fulfil your ambitions by improving your ability to analyse issues synthetically and critically. You will learn how to make comparisons, compare research methods or different theoretical approaches and you will develop your ability to make an argument.

Programme's added value

The BA course provides you with a basic grounding in psychology and education science, which is both thorough and sufficiently broad-based. With this as a base, you can go on to a specialised MA. Our MA courses have a good professional reputation for providing advanced and strictly methodological training.

Succeed in your studies

Choose

- > Teaching, teacher training, adult training and trainer training
- > Educationalist in the learning sector
- > Stakeholder in the learning sector

In psychology and education science, the student can also opt for an advanced MA with a specific research focus. Finally students can switch to logopedics within conditions or aim towards an MA in Criminology (using the pre-orientation module)
