MATHEMATICS
FACULTY OF SCIENCES

Reference : 2026/S142

Application deadline : 19/06/2026 12:00 PM

Starting date : 01/10/2026

Job Description

The duties of an assistant are structured around three areas: research, teaching, and service to the community.

Research activities are mainly devoted to completing a doctoral thesis in one of the research areas of the Department of Mathematics. The candidate must have contacted one of the Department's professors beforehand regarding this research and must submit a thesis project agreed upon with that person.

Teaching duties include supervising exercise sessions and projects for various mathematics courses, up to 300 hours per year, as well as other pedagogical tasks such as preparing, invigilating, and grading examinations.

Finally, the assistant may occasionally be asked to contribute to community service activities, in particular by participating in representative bodies and in mathematical outreach activities within the Experimentarium of Mathematics and Computer Science.

Diplomas

Holder of a 120-credit Master's degree in Mathematical Sciences, Statistics, Actuarial Sciences, or a qualification recognized as equivalent, and meeting the admission requirements for doctoral studies.

Applications from persons already holding a doctorate will not be considered.

Required skills

- High scientific level in mathematics.
- Excellent teaching skills.
- Good ability to integrate into the teaching team.
- Excellent command of French; basic knowledge of English.

Courses covered

Exercise sessions and personal assignments, including the preparation, invigilation, and correction of examinations and other assignments, in mathematics at undergraduate and master's level.
